July 6 Canon

Phrygian

Allegro

The musical score is written on four systems of staves. Each system consists of a treble clef staff and a bass clef staff. The first system begins with a 5/8 time signature. The notation includes various note values, rests, and slurs, characteristic of a handwritten manuscript. The paper shows signs of age with some staining.

The image shows a handwritten musical score on aged, stained paper. At the top, the date "July 6" is written in cursive. Below it, the word "Alto" is written on a staff. The main title "Violin" is written above the first staff. The score consists of several systems of staves. The first system has a Violin staff and a Cello staff. The second system has two Cello staves. The third system has a single Cello staff. The fourth system has a single Cello staff. The fifth system has a single Cello staff. The sixth system has two Cello staves. The music is written in a simple, handwritten style with various notes, rests, and accidentals. There are some stains and foxing on the paper, particularly in the middle section.

July 6

Handwritten musical notation on two staves. The top staff is in treble clef and the bottom in bass clef. The music features a melodic line with a slur and a bass line with a slur and a double bar line at the end.
